Irvine Company Reveals New "Lease or Buy" Land Option

By CARL E. VENSTROM
Editor and Publisher

A unique "lease or buy" option in the University Community area was announced last week at the Newporter Inn by William R. Mason, president of the Irvine Company.

Homeowners in the Turtle Rock and University Park developments will now have a choice of either leasing or purchasing their land outright.

The new "lease or buy" option will allow the Irvine Company to maintain the integrity of their master plan, but will open new avenues of financing and developing which were previously unavailable.

Mason explained the integrity of the master plan, which provides architectural standards and the right of various Community Associations to manage their internal affairs, will be unchanged by the new policy.

Current residents in the University Community have the option of continuing under their present lease agreements or purchasing their lots. Cost of the lot will be based upon the appraised value of the land as determined by the Irvine Company and independent appraisers.

University Community residents may exercise the option to purchase immediately or at any time in the future during the life of the lease.

President Mason indicated that the Irvine Company has no intentions to sell off individual lots or large parcels for residential development. The quality and cost of new homes built under the new "lease or buy" option will be consistent with present developments. Mason said the Irvine Company is dedicated to maintaining its current high standards of home construction.

William L. Aldrich, Director of Public Relations and Advertising for the Irvine Company, introduced President William Mason at the luncheon where the "lease or buy" option was revealed.

Aliso Homeowners Set Membership Day

Sunday, May 19 has been picked as membership drive day by the officers of the Aliso Valley Homeowners Association.

AVHA officers believe that with the complex problems facing our society that we need a voice that will be heard. This voice can be a weak murmur or a strong roar, but the homeowners believe it all depends on the individual.

The Aliso Valley Homeowners have been active this year with safeguarding zoning in the El Toro area. Sweeping of the streets and landscaping of the major roads was another major project. Also the summer program for the children of the area.

The summer project will include two programs, one for children in grades one through six which will be open to junior high children, and second, a teen age program which the YMCA will co-sponsor.

On Sunday, when you are contacted, the officers of the Aliso Valley Homeowners urge you to help the voice of the area to become a roar by spending $2.00 and joining the association.

North American Autonetics Plant Sets Mid-1969 Opening

By DOUG ONYON

North American's South Orange County facility, employing an estimated 7500, will be completed in mid-1969.

The facility, covering 1300 acres, will house data and information systems of Autonetics, an electronics division of the North American Rockwell Corporation. The primary operations will include computer design, fabrication and programming.

Located north of the Crown Valley Parkway midway between Laguna Beach and Mission Viejo, the construction on the plant will start this fall.

The operation payroll will reach in the neighborhood of $60 million annually in addition to the present facility in Anaheim which now has a payroll of $200 million annually.

Most of the 7500 people in employment will be drawn from those already employed by the company or employed by the time of completion. The company will transfer the majority of its personnel for the facility.

North American officials say that there will be no hiring based on a geographical location. Anyone interested in applying for a job in Autonetics should go through the personnel office in the Anaheim facility but Autonetics will not hire for specific transfer to its South Orange County plant.

1968 Presidential Race Should Interest Youth

Humphrey, Kennedy, McCarthy, Nixon, Rockefeller and Wallace.

These six men can provide an irrepeatable education to your children this year if you will let them.

1968 is turning into an election year that will long be remembered in the history books. The forum of discussion is being increased and utilized daily. Each day a new event takes place that shapes the future course of our nation.

Now is the time for you to direct your child to take an interest in the presidential campaign, whether passive or active. Point out to your children the process of government in action as each event unfolds this year.

Your children can live this history if only you will act as a catalyst and create an interest so that they can see and understand their nation in its finest moments.

Letter to Editor

Mr. Carl Venstrom, Editor
Rancho Reporter
P. O. Box 237
El Toro, California.

Dear Carl:

I hope you will allow me to use this method of communication with our community to report on an experience involving a unique group of students from all segments of our High School District who recently demonstrated, by action and accomplishment, that all is not negative; and to the contrary, much is positive with our high school youth of today.

Last Wednesday evening I was privileged to represent the High School District at the Future Farmers of America Farm Program Competition Annual Banquet for Orange County, sponsored by the Security First National Bank. I was further privileged to dine and talk with a group of students receiving awards for outstanding project development in our Vocational Agriculture Program. Mike Dicks, Steve Hazan, Larry Scott, Edward Garcia, Dean Howell, Eric Tulleners, and Mike Ustariz were winners from Mission Viejo High School in our District. These young men from all walks of life and from all ability levels were outstanding examples of school pride, accepters of responsibility, and teenage leadership.

Knowing your oft expressed interest in our fine agriculture program, I am sure that you would agree that the students, their instructor, the helpers and supporters within the school and district, as well as our community Advisory Council are to be commended and honored for their role in the accomplishments of these young people.

The Future Farmers of America pledge, "To practice brotherhood, honor rural opportunities and responsibilities, and develop those qualities of leadership which a Future Farmer should possess," was graphically on display, last Wednesday. I could not help but reflect at the time that the practice of brotherhood, the honoring of opportunities and responsibilities, and the development and furtherance of leadership through the schools, might well be teenage examples to balance the scale of the ever-pressing attitudes and actions which come under such close scrutiny at this time.

Sincerely,
John W. Duncan, Assistant Superintendent
Tustin Union High School District

Dear Bob,

The Board of Directors of the Aliso Valley Homeowners Association would like to take this opportunity to commend you and your entire Board of Directors for their outstanding work in planning, organizing and building the newly created Saddleback Little League.

We recognize the tremendous amount of work involved in creating a new league and in building a new playing field. It is obvious that you people have given freely of your time and talents to such a worthwhile objective.

May we wish you much success on opening day, May 11, when all teams play their first game. We sincerely hope the parents and residents will come out on this date and throughout the rest of the season and give you their thanks and support.

I'm sure we speak for all Saddleback Little Leaguers when we say thank you and good luck.

Very truly yours,
Robert C. Arp

Dear Editor,

Thank God for Rev. Tamietti! I wholeheartedly support his 14-point pledge. And my congratulations to you for having the courage to publicly present the strong commitment of a fellow citizen.

However, I am disappointed by the fact that you consider any of us in Mission Viejo ". . . in an isolated area. . . far from the strife of battle. . ." (your editorial, April 24, 1968). The fight is within each of us. The war for racial justice will not be won until the individual battles waged within the conscience of each man are resolved by the conclusion that "all men are created equal."

Sincerely,
George E. Shultz

The Reverend Frank Purnell, Pastor of the Christian Church Disciples of Christ, will host the next ecumenical services on Tuesday, May 21, at 8 p.m. These will be held in the Lutheran Church of the Cross on El Toro Road, Laguna Hills.

Newspapers Belong To Community

We had several telephone calls recently congratulating the Rev. Domenick Tamietti regarding his questionnaires on our national racial problem and thanking us for giving him the space and taking an editorial stand on this issue.

We had one interesting letter on this social problem which is printed in this issue under "Letters to the Editor."

We also had one call from a lady in Mission Viejo who disagreed with Rev. Tamietti and with this newspaper on giving editorial space to this matter.

We listened and encouraged the lady to write a "Letter to the Editor" where she might re-create — in print — what she said over the telephone and, therefore, present another point of view.

We are disappointed, at this writing, that we have not yet received this letter since we want a variety of opinions and thoughts to be presented in our community newspaper.

A newspaper does not belong to one person — it belongs to the community of which it is written for. The thoughts of all of its readers are always important to the editor.

This newspaper welcomes a variety of ideas. The "Letter to the Editor" column is always open to our readers as long as they do not involve us in libel and as long as the letter portrays good taste. Whether we agree or disagree with the letter makes no difference. The important thing is that we exchange ideas on building a better community and a better world.

So, let's hear from you from time to time on what you are thinking. These letters are not only interesting to members of this newspaper staff but are interesting to the total community in which we live.

Local Indians Whoop It Up

South Orange County El Toro YMCA Nation Chief Doc Pellettieri reported this week that more than 150 "Y" Indian Guide fathers and sons attended the second Annual Spring Campout May 10, 11, and 12.

Pellettieri indicated some fathers left Friday evening and some left Saturday and that each group participated in the Olympics on Saturday at 1:45 p.m. at Falcon Group Camp, north of the El Cariso Ranger Station off the Ortega Highway four miles.

"Y" Director Roger Carter indicated this was the largest campout in local YMCA history and said, "plans for the fall anticipate well over 300 fathers and sons in YMCA Indian Guides. It looks like a total of 30 boys and girls youth groups in the Fall in Aliso Valley making the YMCA program the largest for that area.

Stay alert! The season for baseballs to be flying is here . . . and this year Mission Viejo has its own league of Little League teams, nine of them.

Each of the teams has 15 or 16 players and is classified as a major league or minor league team. The game schedule runs from April 27 through July 13 during which time the major league teams will play 23 games and the minor league teams will play 22. At the close of the season an all-star team will be selected to enter competition with teams made up of all-stars in other leagues.

Boys between the ages of 8 and 12 are eligible to participate in the Little League program. In its league Mission Viejo will have four major league teams and five minor league teams. Eight year old boys may only play on minor league teams whereas older boys may play on either a major or minor league team, depending upon their playing ability.

Serving the Mission Viejo Little League as officers and members of the board of directors are Jack M. Harris, president; Lee Steinbrook, vice president; Pat Gray, secretary; Sam Myers, treasurer; Herman Schmidt, equipment manager; Clifford Hansen, player agent; and James C. Hoover, coaches representative. William A. Van Zuylen is chief umpire and Mary Gillian is president of the ladies auxiliary.

Calling the balls and strikes during the season, in addition to VanZuylen, will be Marvin J. Andresick, Eric R. Edney, G.C. Greer, A.D. Hale, Donald E. Hall, Gerald Hall, James C. Hoover, James F. Moore, Jr., Stanley Weintraub and Edward W. Willrodt.

All area Republicans are invited to share in this exciting venture by joining the Saddleback organization.

For further information, call Club President, Mike Collins, at 837-2726.

Opening game ceremonies for the Mission Viejo Little League were highlighted by presentation of the colors by local scouts.

"Two For Tonight Plus Kate" Opens

Laguna Beach Playhouse audiences will enjoy two gala evenings on Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11, when the Players will put on "Two For Tonight Plus Katie," a program of one act plays and Katie Porter, a Lagunan well known along the nightclub circuit these days as expert guitarist and singer.

The entertainment will consist of scenes from Tennessee Williams' "Orpheus Descending", directed by Marthella Randall, and Eugene O'Neill's "Hughie," directed by John Ferzacca.

Williams, world famous for such plays as "Night of the Iguana," and "Streetcar Named Desire," fills "Orpheus" with myriad characters, but Mrs. Randall, long connected with the Playhouse as actress, director and board member, has taken just three of the characters and has woven a stimulating "cutting" from the first act.

After its presentation at the Playhouse, "Orpheus" will compete on Sunday, May 12, in the Riverside Players One-Act Play Tournament.

Ticket prices for both Friday and Saturday evenings, May 10 and 11, are $1.75, with a special price of $1.00 for students. All seats are reserved. Call 494-8061 for reservations. Box office opens at 1 p.m. Curtain is at 8:30 p.m. The Laguna Playhouse is at 319 Ocean Ave., Laguna Beach.

Up Up and Away – Air California has announced JET SERVICE between Orange County and San Francisco starting Friday. The DC-9 service will make 14 round-trips daily.

Air Cal Adds DC-9's; Doubles SF Flights

by DOUG ONYON
Staff Writer

Air California doubles its flights between San Francisco and Orange County Airport Friday, and at the same time puts into service two new DC-9 jets.

The flights between San Francisco and Orange County increase from 14 to 28 a day, with hourly flights in both directions from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. The service between San Jose and Oakland increases by one-third, going from ten to 14 flights a day.

According to Alan H. Kenison, the airline's sales vice president, most of the San Francisco-Orange County flights will be with pure jet equipment.

Air California has also filed an application with the California Public Utilities Commission for a Certificate to provide direct service between both Ontario International and Hollywood-Burbank Airport and San Jose and Oakland.

The airline's application for the new routes points out that while there is now service between Hollywood-Burbank and Ontario and San Francisco, no such service exists between these two southern California airports and San Jose and Oakland.

Air California began in January 1967 flying between Orange County Airport and San Francisco International. The airline started with two Lockheed Electra turbo-jets and a schedule of five round trips a day.

Five and a half months later, the company made application to fly between San Jose and Oakland and Orange County, and added two more Electras to its fleet. Today Air California flies an average of 30 daily flights between Orange County and the three Bay Area cities.

During its 15 months of operation the airline has carried nearly one half million passengers.

The new application calls for four round trips a day between Ontario, San Jose and Oakland, and four between San Jose, Oakland and Hollywood-Burbank.

The proposed one-way fare between Hollywood-Burbank and San Jose or Oakland is $13.50 plus tax; between Ontario and the two northern cities it is $14.85.

Gonorrhea Out Of Control In County

Gonorrhea is "out of control" in Orange County, flatly states Dr. Thomas J. Albert, who heads the Orange County Health Department's infectious disease division.

Just what his department is doing to combat the venereal disease spiral in Orange County will be revealed by Dr. Albert during a program to be held the weekend of May 17-19 on the UC Irvine Campus: Special Problems in School Health Education: VD.

Co-sponsors are University Extension and the Orange County Health Department.

In just five years, gonorrhea cases reported to his department rocketed by 328 percent to a total of 1436 in 1967, far outpacing the growth of population in the county, Dr. Albert points out.

"Yet, we're sure that many more cases go unreported for a variety of reasons," the South Laguna physician adds.

"From the reports of the first quarter of 1968, it appears this year's total will be higher yet."

Dr. Albert terms gonorrhea the world's greatest communicable disease. "Contrary to popular belief, it's not the teenage group, but those in their early twenties, that are hit hardest", he notes. "The 20 to 24 year age group represents 40 percent of last year's reported gonorrhea cases; the 15 to 19 year group only 17 percent."

Meanwhile, the number of reported cases of syphilis, the second important venereal disease, remains fairly constant in Orange County, Dr. Albert notes.

In 1960, there were 138 cases of all types of syphilis reported. Last year, the total was 179.

"Because of its seriousness however, syphilis remains our most important problem," says Dr. Albert, noting that the disease leads to permanent disability and even death if left untreated.

American Tells Of Canadian Football

Bill Redell, a Mission Viejo resident who is a pro football player for the Canadian "Hamilton Tiger Cats" was the guest speaker last week to the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo.

The local service club meets every Tuesday at 7:15 a.m. for breakfast at the Mission Viejo Inn.

Redell gave a factual and amusing account of what it is like for an American to be playing pro football for a Canadian team.

"The Canadians like their football and the schedule is always tight," said Redell. "Most of the time we play four pro games in eight days with travel time in between. Often this travel time takes us from one end of Canada to the other."

There is a limit of the number of Americans that can be on a Canadian team, said Redell, and they have three downs rather than four.

A Kiwanis education meeting was held last Thursday night at the Mission Viejo High School. Vice President Jay Ingall was in charge of the meeting which is a requirement for all new members.

The board of directors of the local Kiwanians gave approval last week — at a special meeting — to the naming of their weekly news letter which will be called "Viejo Early Bird."

Officials at the University of California at Irvine dedicated a new $5.2 million School of Physical Science building Thursday.

The six-story structure, when fully completed in early 1969, will house classes and laboratories for approximately 750 students. The research facilities will include a small nuclear reactor financed by part of a $2.5 million federal research grant for equipment.

Dr. Leland J. Haworth, director of the National Science Foundation keynoted the dedication services.

The Fine Arts Village, a complex of galleries, studios, rooms and theatres, and a School of Engineering form the next building stage.

Saddleback Contracts For Interim Campus Buildings

Saddleback College has moved closer to opening its doors with renewal of the district superintendent's contract, employment of six instructors and awarding bids for the interim campus.

Jack S. Roper, superintendent and college president, was given a three-year contract with an annual base salary of $25,000, effective July 1. His current base salary is $21,500.

Two business science and four physical education instructors were employed.

Named to the division of business science were Linda Lee Rice of Irvine, currently a teacher at Costa Mesa High School, and Florence E. Wilkinson of Costa Mesa, an instructor at Chaffey College in Alta Loma.

Three firms received contracts for construction projects of the interim campus located in Mission Viejo.

Speedspace Corporation of Downey, with a low bid of $572,754 for interim classroom structures and sanitary facilities, was awarded the top contract. There were six bids with the high bid at $651,392.

The interim campus calls for 13 buildings. It includes eight classrooms, a library, student center and book store, staff offices, administration building and physical education facility.

Contract for casework was awarded to E & Z Cabinet Co. of El Monte with its bid of $34,000. The high of the three bids was $41,300.

John W. Tiedemann Co. of Whittier, with its low bid of $135,516, was awarded the contract for site development work, which includes finished grading, paving, utilities and landscaping. The high bid of seven received was $163,560.

Supt. Roper said the total of $742,270 for the entire project was about $10,000 below the earlier estimate.

The Board of Trustees also retained Adrian Wilson Associates and Ellerbroek, Koteles, Fox and Associates as architects.

Chapman Announces Scholarship Concert

The third annual Sholund Scholarship Concert at Chapman College will be presented May 19 at 8:15 p. m. in the college auditorium.

The Chapman College Concert Choir and Orchestra, conducted by William D. Hall, assistant professor of music, will present two choral works — the "Te Deum" by the nineteenth century Austrian composer Anton Bruckner, and "A Testament of Life" by the contemporary American composer Halsey Stevens.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at the door. All proceeds will go to the Sholund Music Scholarship Fund, established in memory of Dr. Edgar Sholund, head of the Chapman College music department from 1955 until his death in 1966. Dr. Sholund had first joined the Chapman music faculty in 1947.

Soloists for the concert will be soprano Kaye Grobee, alto Pat Wade, tenors Alvin Brightbill and Franz Brightbill, and basses Michel Bell and John Miller.

Mission Viejo Club Plans Hole-In-One, Par Clubs

Two mighty exclusive clubs for golfers are being formed at Mission Viejo Course in southeastern Orange County. One for those who have performed the amazing feat of scoring a hole-in-one and one for those who perform the seemingly impossible feat of breaking par on the challenging layout.

A plaque bearing the names of the six golfers who have thus far scored aces will be located in the pro shop. Each Hole-In-One Club member will be presented an individual Hole-In-One trophy which has room for mounting the ball used in scoring the ace.

All of the miracle shots were scored on Par 3 holes and all were made in 1967.

Charter members of the Club are: Don Mast, Santa Ana, who aced the 13th hole on March 1; Bob Hemminghaus, Whittier, the 6th hole, March 25; H. C. Stone, Garden Grove, the 6th hole, May 27; Steven Knuchell, Monterey Park, 3rd hole, July 10; and William Wright, 17th hole, November 10.

The Par-Breakers Club plaque will also be hung in the golf club, but it will bear no names, since no-one has ever broken par in the 13-month history of the course.

Lyric Opera Group Sets May 19 For Western BBQ

Opera fans, and Southern California friends of the Lyric Opera Association of Orange County will gather at Bommer Canyon on The Irvine Ranch on Sunday, May 19 for a pit barbeque and old-time western "opry" event. Over 750 persons are expected to attend.

Directors of the association, the Opera League, the "Opera 100" group of Laguna Hills, and Friends of the Opera will be joint hosts, according to H. Jean Bedell, president and general chairman for the affair. Coordinating chairman for the Sunday event is Mrs. Robert S. Erickson. Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mason have been named honorary chairmen.

Food service and entertainment will be continuous throughout the afternoon from 1:00 to 5:30 p. m., with the donated price of tickets covering both.

Adult donations are $5 per person while students of all ages will be admitted at $1.50 each. Mrs. Dorothy Hardcastle has been named ticket chairman.

Net proceeds from the affair will benefit the activities of the non-profit association.

The program of continuous entertainment, presided over by comedian Bing Starr, will evoke memories of the early days of California and the old west, according to Mrs. Erickson. The Reinsmen, a trio which includes two of an original singing group formerly of the Knott's Berry Farm's Wagon Camp, are featured in the afternoon's program. The trio's collection of western classics, skits has boosted it to a top position in the field of wes-

"See You" — The Richard Cramers (left) and the Paul Skopniks became good friends as they camped in the Eldorado Homes parking lot for over a week to be the first two families to buy homes of their choice when Unit 7 opened recently in Mission Viejo. Getting in the Cinco de Mayo spirit for the fiesta to be held the following day, the Skopniks decorated their tent with a Mexican sombrero. Six families camped all week and a total of 13 spent the final night in the parking lot.

Old-Timer Urges Study Of Rapid Transit System

by McKAY MITCHELL

There has been a great deal of constructive and far sighted thought put into planning by county, local and private planners for the future use of our part of the county. However, there is a striking lack of plans for mass transit and as a result most of us are a two-three (even four or five) car families in order to get around and do our normal living.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority does provide bus service from the Leisure World shopping area to Santa Ana, but on a most casual basis that at times does not allow a person to coordinate work or even go to the Music Center in downtown Los Angeles for a cultural event.

We know the Orange County Philharmonic Society does have the same programs locally — but we enjoy the atmosphere at the Music Center more than that of the gym at UCI.

After much bantering at several poorly attended hearings of the Public Utilities Commission, a service was authorized between Laguna, Laguna Hills, and the Disneyland Hotel for air or bus service to International Airport, but it takes so long it is best to eat before you get there. Personally, we prefer Air California out of Orange County Airport.

The Greyhound busses shift into high at San Clemente and go direct to Los Angeles — may be stopping at Santa Ana, Anaheim, or Fullerton to pick up or drop through fares or zip through to Long Beach with a stop at Laguna Beach.

Our central core area along the San Diego Freeway now has a 50,000 population with a potential of 500,000 that lacks a planned mass transit system. During the President's proclaimed National Transportation Week of May 12 it is hoped that some of us could start making effective plans for the near future in this regard.

JANIS VENSTROM

Shopping With Jan

As I was sitting here at my typewriter wondering who Jan was going to shop with this week, Liz, "our girl Friday" reported the sad news of our office refrigerator being on the blink. I of course, said call someone here in the area to see if we could get it fixed. She said she couldn't think of anyone close that did repair work of this kind, but that Ernie at Your Service, even though he advertises the fact that he repairs small appliances, if we sort of stretched our imaginations into believing our refrigerator was so small it might fall into Ernie's category of small appliances.

Liz picked up the phone to dial Ernie, but he was out, and just as she was hanging up the telephone, who walked in the front door but Ernie at Your Service.

I can honestly say when you want prompt service Ernie not only fixes appliances, but he has mental telepathy. A combination hard to find in a small appliances business. Ernie, you should go far!

To end my shopping with Jan column on a pleasant note, Ernie not only got here fast, but repaired our refrigerator in short order. Thanks to Ernie we now have cold cokes again.

If you need an appliance repaired, do not hesitate to call him at his local residence, 837-6931.

Oh yes, an added thought well worth mentioning is Ernie's very fair prices. I know I could not have found anyone more reasonable. When you call him try to make it between the hours of 7 - 8 a.m. and 7 - 9 p.m. for he is busy repairing things during most of the day.

"Meet Your Neighbor"

Hank Ballard is a man who spent over three years looking for a home in Orange County before buying in Mission Viejo and now he is opening a much-needed business there.

Henry (Hank to his friends) W. Ballard is a native Cali fornian in the real estate brokerage business. La Paz Real Estate will be the name of the new firm and it will be located in the new Rancho Shopping Center in Mission Viejo.

Specializing in re-sale and general brokerage, Ballard and his trained staff will fill a much needed gap in the Mission Viejo area. La Paz's modern office will display the works of local artists, and on the business side will have the most complete set of South Orange County and San Diego County maps around.

Graduating from USC with a Bachelor's of Science in Finance in 1952, Ballard served for two years in the Marine Corp as an officer. Hank saw action in Korea and following his discharge moved into the finance business.

In 1957, Ballard received his real estate license and in 1963 won his broker's license. Ballard in 1966 left his position as general sales manger for the Fred Marlowe Company in the Westchester area of Los Angeles.

Ballard and his German-born wife Eva moved to 24901 Cienga in Mission Viejo during the fall of 1966. Soon after moving into their Deane Brothers home, son Kirk was joined by baby sister Karen.

Eva Ballard was brought up in the US and in 1959 graduated Phi Beta Kappa from USC. Mrs. Ballard won a scholarship to study in Germany for one year and upon her return married Hank. The Ballards met after the 1959 USC-Notre Dame football game. Hank thinks that both he and Notre Dame won.

Mrs. Ballard is active in the local Lutheran Church and the Deane Women's Club while Mr. Ballard is active in the Men's Club and on the alumni board of Theta Xi at USC.

La Paz Real Estate, located at 25918 Muirlands in Mission Viejo will be open within two weeks and for information call 830-0700. Ballard is the only re-sale broker in Mission Viejo and to this local businessman and residents - best of luck.

Mission Viejo Future Farmers Host Agricultural Field Day

The Mission Viejo Future Farmers will be holding the second annual Agriculture Field Day at Mission Viejo High School Agriculture Department, Saturday, May 18, 1968.

This is the greatest event of the year for the town of Mission Viejo. Many students from the Tustin District will be participating with their exhibits. Judging of the students' exhibits will begin at 1:00 p.m. and conclude at approximately 4:30 p.m.

These exhibits will consist of citrus, floriculture and baking, which will be of interest to the housewife. There will be beautiful displays of flower arrangements, some of the very finest fruit displays, and a great variety of tempting pies and cakes.

Other exhibits will include, sheep, poultry, farm machinery, livestock production record books and the most "outstanding" exhibit, Beef, which seems to be year after year the major attraction. This year there will be more than twenty steers competing for top honors. Last year the Mission Viejo Chapter F.F.A. won many top honors, including the Grand Champion Steer at the Orange County Fair.

For all the parents, there will be a cooperative quize to test their knowledge in the field of Agriculture. There will be a $10.00 prize for the first-place winner and a $5.00 prize for the second-place winner. These prizes and the exhibit trophies will be awarded at the western style deep-pit barbeque after the judging at 5:30 p.m.

Tickets for the barbeque will be $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for children under twelve. These tickets can be purchased by calling 544-5409.
